What humble heart could not to this respond,
F C/E Dm C F/A G C
My lips shall praise, my heart shall bow to You, my King of love.

The cross speaks of suffering on which He chose to die,
My shame & guilt He did bear;
The man, Incarnate God was crushed and pierced by me
And walked the journey of the cross.

And this I know my Saviours' suffering,
Was there upon the cross displayed,
What humble heart could not to this respond,
My lips shall praise, my heart shall bow to You of suffering known.

The cross speaks of victory, a battle that is won
Eternally He will reign
And when he rose on high the enemy was crushed
And death was conquered at the Cross

And this I know my Saviours' victory,
Was there upon the cross displayed,
What humble heart could not to this respond
My lips shall praise, my heart shall bow to You Victorious One!
